

Online Exclusive: ABA Banking Journal Podcast

Welcome to the ABA Banking Journal Podcast! The free 20-minute podcast — timed to fit into a commute or a lunch break — offers weekly conversational interviews on newsy topics with leading bankers, ABA staff experts and other clever minds.

In 2009, Bank Midwest — a community institution in Spirit Lake, Iowa — found itself with extra liquidity and room on its balance sheet. The bank's then-CEO, Steve Goodenow, got in touch with an old friend who had worked in equipment leasing, and together they began building a nationwide healthcare equipment finance business.
